Support Moms & Babies Who Love our Classes

As you reflect on Heather's story & the positive impact you’ve helped FLS to have on her family, please consider a donation to further your reach in our community.

With the help of your regular donation, we can continue to work towards our mission by seeing our daily client load in addition to the clients who now attend our educational classes!

☐ Yes! I support the Moms & Dads that FLS serves!

We empower women in Southeastern Michigan through a Christian community that builds strong families, restores the true value of sex, and celebrates all life.

Client Spotlight
Heather

Leaving behind her life in foster care at age 18, Heather moved to Ypsilanti with her 3 year old daughter to start working towards a degree in criminal justice. After being told it would be nearly impossible for her to get pregnant again due to a medical condition, Heather was shocked and unprepared last year when she found out she was expecting. Between working towards a degree & raising a preteen, Heather didn’t know how she was going to handle supporting a new baby.

That’s when her best friend connected her with Family Life Services, “You have to go, this place is AMAZING”.

Heather came in, became a client, and fell in love with the new point system for material goods and the education classes. She loves that she can earn points for things that she needs while bonding with & socializing her son, LJ. “My daughter didn’t get the socialization she needed as a baby because of our circumstances. The Thursday morning class (Play & Learn) helps my son get critical socialization.” Heather says that LJ recognizes the songs and games from class when she sings them at home. Heather has one year of school left to finish her degree. Upon graduation, she aspires to go into the police academy to become an officer.

“I love Family Life Services, they have been so helpful!”

Passing along the advice her best friend gave to her, Heather tells everyone she knows that could benefit from FLS about what the center offers. She even picks her friends up and brings them to class if they need a ride! One week she had to make two trips to class because she couldn’t fit all the moms and babies in her car at once!

About Jill:
Material Goods Director

“When I was raising children I became aware of FLS through the church I was attending and vowed that I would volunteer there... and here I am 12 years later with FLS.”

Jill’s favorite part of volunteering at FLS is organizing the donations to make it easier for staff and volunteers to access the material goods so that our client’s needs can be met with the utmost care.

According to Jill, volunteering at FLS means becoming active in the pro-life movement by caring for and supporting parents in their God given privilege to bear children.

How Material Goods Work

Have you ever donated kids stuff to FLS and wondered how in the world we organize and distribute all of the items we receive?

With donations coming in daily form all of you it takes some very special volunteers, lots of dedication and loads of organization to process it all!

Jill Ball, our Material Goods Director, takes the lead and has a strategic vision for sorting, organizing and distributing baby items, kids clothes, and furniture donations. The process often starts in bags and piles and is slowly laid out into an assembly line where items are organized by gender, size, and season. From there items will be neatly folded, bundled together and methodically stored where they wait to be given to mothers and children in need!
